

More Mystery in the Valley

Cara Black

The Aimee Leduc Mysteries

Wednesday March 24 at 6p
Bookwagon on Ashland St.

In Murder in the Palais Royal, beloved dwarf Rene is shot with a Beretta, Aimee's pistol of choice so le flic assume that Aimee has shot her friend. Aimee chases this crime through Cardinal Richelieu's former Palais Royal, a wonderful and historic structure in the center of Paris, where the ghosts of Collette and her lover Coc-teau walk the paved courtyards.

Murder in the Palais Royal is Cara Black's 10th Aimee Leduc mystery, published in 2010 by Soho Crime. Cara Black loves Paris and her crime fiction sizzles - Aimee's in vintage leather minis and 3 inch heels - Cara's almost that exotic, and she's everything you might want in an mystery author!

"If the cobblestones of the old Marais district of Paris could only talk, they might tell a tale as haunting as the one Cara Black spins..."

Marilyn Stasio

NY Times Book Review on Murder in the Marais

Sponsored Ashland Mystery Readers Group, Friends of the Ashland Public Library, Bookwagon New & Used Books, Standing Stone Brewing Company. For more information call: 541-552-0743